Amendments and corrections to the Futsal Laws of the Game 2012/2013

Dear Sir or Madam,

In collaboration with the subcommittee of the International Football Association Board (IFAB) and the FIFA Refereeing Department, the FIFA Futsal Committee has approved two amendments to the 2011 Futsal Laws of the Game, various instructions and directives issued by IFAB that have a direct impact on the Futsal Laws of the Game and a corrected version of the Laws in the four official FIFA languages. The details of the approved amendments, the corrections made to the Laws and the IFAB decisions are outlined below.

LAWS OF THE GAME AND IFAB DECISIONS

1. Law 1 – The Field of Play
   Interpretation of the Futsal Laws of the Game and Guidelines for Referees:

</tr>
<tr>
<td>2. the same distance from the goal line as the depth of the goal net</td>
<td>3. 1m (1yd) from the goal net</td>
</tr>
</tbody>
</table>

Reason

IFAB decision: There should be no upright advertising of any kind within a one-metre area surrounding the goal net to allow an unrestricted view of the goal for match officials.
2. Law 3 – The Number of Players

Until now, the Futsal Laws of the Game (Law 3) allowed a maximum of seven substitutions. Given the growing popularity of futsal and the increasing number of competitions, as well as the usual format of competitions with several matches back-to-back, there was a need to allow a greater number of players per match.

<td>Official competitions Up to a maximum of nine substitutes may be used in any match played in an official competition organised under the auspices of FIFA, the confederations or the member associations. The rules of the competition must state how many substitutes may be nominated, up to a maximum of nine.</td>
</tr>
</tbody>
</table>

Reason

This modification will help prevent injuries in the long term as a result of playing several matches in a row. Nonetheless, the rules of each competition may establish the number of substitutes.

3. Law 3 – The Number of Players

Interpretation of the Futsal Laws of the Game and Guidelines for Referees:

<td>If a named substitute replaces a player before the start of a match without the team officials informing the match officials, the referees, assisted by the assistant referees, must adhere to the following guidelines: • stop play (although not immediately if the advantage can be applied) • they do not caution him, but he must leave the pitch at the first stoppage in the match to complete the substitution procedure, i.e. enter via his team’s substitution zone • if they apply the advantage, stop play once the substitute’s team is in possession of the ball and restart it with an indirect free kick to</td>
<td>If a named substitute enters the field of play instead of a named player at the start of the match and the referee or assistant referees are not informed of this change: • the referees allow the named substitute to continue the match • no disciplinary sanction is taken against the named substitute • the referee reports the incident to the appropriate authorities</td>

the opposing team from the position of the ball when play was stopped (see Law 13 – Position of free kick)

- if they apply the advantage and stop play because the opposing team commits an infringement or because the ball leaves the pitch, they must restart play with an indirect free kick to the opponents of the substitute’s team from the position of the ball when play was stopped (see Law 13 – Position of free kick). If necessary, they also take the disciplinary action corresponding to the infringement committed by the opponents of the substitute’s team

- if they apply the advantage and the substitute or another player of his team commits an infringement punishable with a direct free kick (see Law 13 – Position of free kick), they sanction his team with a direct free kick or a penalty kick. If necessary, they also take the disciplinary action corresponding to the infringement committed.

Reason

IFAB decision: It is not rare that a substitution is made prior to the start of the match and after the referee has been informed of the names of the players and substitutes. This is normally due to a player being injured during the warm-up. If the match officials are informed of the substitution, this is permitted, but it is necessary to clarify how to proceed if the match officials are not informed of the change.

4. Law 4 – The Players’ Equipment

<th>New text</th>
</tr>
</thead>
<tbody>
<tr>
<td>stockings</td>
<td>stockings: if tape or similar material is applied externally it must be the same colour as that part of the stocking it is applied to</td>
</tr>
</tbody>
</table>

Reason

IFAB decision: An increasing number of players are using excessive amounts of tape externally on their socks. This can be a multitude of colours and completely changes the look of the sock. This can cause confusion among the match officials, who may need to look closely at the sock to determine who last played the ball before it went out of play.

The use of electronic communication systems between players and/or technical staff is not permitted.</td>
</tr>
</tbody>
</table>

Reason

IFAB decision: The current wording “radio communications systems” does not reflect technological developments.

6. Law 7 – The Duration of the Match – Ending the periods of play acoustic signal. The period ends when:

- the ball goes directly into the goal and a goal is scored
- the ball leaves the boundaries of the pitch
- the ball touches the goalkeeper, the goalposts, crossbar or ground, crosses the goal line and a goal is scored
- the defending goalkeeper stops the ball or it rebounds from the goalposts or crossbar and does not cross the goal line

If no infringement has been committed that requires a direct free kick or a penalty kick to be retaken or, during the trajectory of the ball, one of the teams does not commit an infringement that is sanctioned with a direct free kick, beginning with the sixth accumulated foul, or a penalty kick, the period will end when:

- the ball touches any player other than the goalkeeper after it has been kicked at the opposing goal

- the ball goes directly into the goal and a goal is scored
- the ball leaves the boundaries of the pitch
- the ball touches the goalkeeper or another player in the defending team, the goalposts, crossbar or ground, crosses the goal line and a goal is scored
- the defending goalkeeper or another player in the defending team touches the ball or it rebounds from the goalposts or crossbar and does not cross the goal line

- the ball touches any player in the team that played the ball, except if an indirect free kick was taken and the ball was heading towards the opponent's goal after being touched by the second player
- no infringement has been committed that is sanctioned with a direct free kick, an indirect free kick or a penalty kick, and a direct free kick, indirect free kick or penalty kick does not have to be retaken

If an infringement has been committed during this period that is sanctioned with a direct free kick after the fifth accumulated foul of one of the teams, or sanctioned with a penalty kick, the period ends when:

- the ball is not kicked directly at the goal
- the ball goes directly into the goal and a goal is scored
- the ball leaves the boundaries of the pitch
- the ball hits one or both posts, the crossbar, the goalkeeper or another player in the defending team and a goal is scored
- the ball hits one or both posts, the crossbar, the goalkeeper or another player in the defending team and a goal is not scored
- another infringement sanctioned with a direct free kick, indirect free kick or penalty kick is not committed

If during this period an infringement sanctioned with a direct free kick is committed before the sixth accumulated foul of one of the teams, the period ends when:

- the ball is not kicked directly at the goal
- the ball goes directly into the goal and a goal is scored
- the ball leaves the boundaries of the pitch
- the ball hits one or both posts, the crossbar, the goalkeeper or another player in the defending team and a goal is scored
- the ball hits one or both posts, the crossbar, the goalkeeper or another player in the defending team and a goal is not scored
- the ball touches a player in the team taking the kick
- another infringement sanctioned with a direct free kick, indirect free kick or penalty kick is not committed

If an infringement sanctioned with an indirect free kick is committed during this period, the period ends when:

- the ball goes directly into the goal without being touched by another player during its trajectory or touching one or both of the posts or the cross bar, in which case the goal will not be allowed
- the ball leaves the boundaries of the pitch
- the ball hits one or both posts or the crossbar after touching the goalkeeper or another player in the defending or attacking team, not the team taking the kick, and a goal is scored
- the ball hits one or both posts or the crossbar after touching the goalkeeper or another player in the defending or attacking team, not the team taking the kick, and a goal is not scored
- another infringement sanctioned with a direct free kick, indirect free kick or penalty kick is not committed

Reason
The existing text was incongruous, as if the ball touched a defender, not the goalkeeper, and it went into his goal, the goal was not valid; it also did not seem in the spirit of fair play to allow an infringement to be committed and, as it was not sanctioned with a penalty kick or that team had already committed five accumulated fouls, the period or the match was ended, which could in extreme cases lead to offences being committed to alter the result of a match.

7. Law 8 – The Start and Restart of Play

<tr>
<td>where it was dropped the first time:</td>

</tr>
<tr>
<td>(...)</td>
<td>(...)</td>
</tr>
</tbody>
</table>

Reason
IFAB decision: There have been a number of occasions where goals have been scored from “uncontested” dropped balls. This has put a great deal of pressure on the referee as he has to allow the goal to stand. We then have the unseemly situation where the opposition allows the team to score from the kick-off without any players trying to stop them in order to rebalance the game. However, this does not necessarily happen, and serious problems can arise.

<td>There are circumstances when a caution for unsporting behaviour is required when a player deliberately handles the ball, e.g. when a player: deliberately handles the ball to prevent an opponent gaining possession</td>
</tr>
</tbody>

Reason

IFAB decision: It is more important to punish the consequence that the hand ball created rather than the fact that it was blatant. In fact, a hand ball could be inconspicuous but certainly very important. Furthermore, it is difficult to define what is meant by “blatantly”, and therefore to have a uniform interpretation, especially by referees from different countries or confederations with very different experiences. Deleting the word “blatantly”, and providing that if the hand ball prevented the opponent from gaining possession the player must be cautioned, makes the interpretation easier.

Reason

Error in the English edition, which is authoritative.

Implementation

The decisions regarding changes to the Laws of the Game are binding for confederations and member associations as from 2 July 2012, but confederations or member associations whose current season has not ended by 2 July may delay the introduction of the adopted alterations to the Laws of the Game until the beginning of their next seasons.
