Reporting Discrimination

Guidance for professional and semi-professional players.
Reporting Discrimination

Foreword

For the majority of the millions of people involved in football each week, either as a player, employee, volunteer or supporter, the experience is extremely positive, helping to develop a lifelong love of the game. However, there can be occasions when some behaviours occur that are unacceptable.

Discriminatory abuse occurs in many forms – and the use of any threatening, abusive, indecent or insulting words or behaviour in reference to a person’s ethnic origin, colour, race, nationality, religion or belief, gender, gender reassignment, sexual orientation or disability is completely unacceptable.

Aggressive and subtle discriminatory abuse persists across British society and it is unsurprising that this behaviour can also manifest in football.

Central to English Football’s Inclusion and Anti-Discrimination Plan 2013-17 is to deliver “football for everyone”. We are determined to provide an inclusive football experience for anyone who wishes to play, work in, or support English football. An experience that is reflective of our diverse communities, safe for all and free from abuse and discrimination.

We recognise that there is under-reporting of incidents of discriminatory abuse in professional and semi-professional football and we encourage those who feel that they have experienced or witnessed discriminatory abuse to report it.

This guide uses stills from a film that The FA has produced in collaboration with the artist Paul Trevillion and ex-England footballer Dion Dublin.

You can view this film and others on http://www.thefa.com/football-rules-governance/equality/inclusion

Anyone who believes they may have witnessed or been a victim of discrimination or abuse during a game is encouraged to report it to the referee immediately – as this guide explains, you should also make your club aware and the police if you want. Players should also speak to their manager, and in the professional game, a PFA representative on such matters. Use the contact details provided in this booklet to contact The FA, or alternatively, Kick It Out via their reporting app where you can report anonymously.

The FA has also introduced a mandatory five match suspension and education programme for Participants who have a proven charge for face to face discriminatory abuse under FA Rule E3. This means attending a session to look at and explore discriminatory behaviour and its impact on others.

So please remember, if you see it, or hear it, report it.

Alex Horne, General Secretary, The Football Association
The FA is committed to stopping abuse and all forms of discrimination as we believe that Football is for Everyone.

But we need your help... If you see or hear discrimination on the pitch, at the training ground, or in the stands, we want you to REPORT IT.

Because if you report discrimination, your evidence can help us to take positive action.

If you see or receive abusive messages on sites such as Twitter and Facebook, we want you to REPORT IT.

And then Kick It Out will report your complaint to True Vision and the police to follow up.
In the pro and semi-pro game, speak to the Referee or one of the Match Officials immediately.

Just the essentials - Who said what, where on the pitch, and when.

Remember, the Referee can take immediate action if they see or hear the offence, such as showing a red card.

If they didn't see or hear it, they may choose to speak to the player and let them know a complaint has been made.

I've been made aware
The Referee will record your complaint and pass on to The FA so we can follow up.

If the incident involves fans, informing a Match Referee is also vital. Because it may be possible for instant action to be taken by sending in stewards, Or focusing CCTV in that area, And with many professional matches covered by television, there could be more evidence. If the discriminatory abuse continues and the referee decides to stop play, then the ground safety officer and police will support the referee.
But remember not to react or get involved because you could end up in trouble.

DON'T GET INVOLVED.

So don't react but report – check again with the Referee after the game that he or she has recorded your complaint, as well as making your club aware and the police if you want.

But avoid posting messages on Twitter or Facebook as this can complicate or delay an investigation.
The FA is committed to following up all reports and the Referee must inform us the next working day of any incidents of discriminatory abuse.

THEN WE CAN HELP YOU

Then we can help you...

CONTACT YOUR CLUB

We will speak to you and your club to ask if you wish to make a formal complaint. We can take statements, and obtain any available TV footage.
Reporting Discrimination

This will help us gather sufficient evidence to be able to issue a charge.

If found proven this can lead to suspension from playing or coaching, fines, and even life bans from football.

You can help to send a clear message that discrimination of any kind is not acceptable,

DISCRIMINATION IS NOT ACCEPTABLE

and help support The FA in eliminating abuse and discrimination in football.

It is everyone’s responsibility to make this happen.

FOOTBALL FOR EVERYONE

TOGETHER
So please remember - If you See It, or Hear It - Report It.

SEE IT. HEAR IT. REPORT IT.
