NEWSPAPER ARTICLE PLANNER AND WRITING FRAME

Imagine you are a newspaper reporter writing for a local newspaper in the 1920s. You need to plan your report to convey what is happening at the match to people who were not there in person. Use the video clips to help you describe what is happening at the ground on match day.

When planning your newspaper article you need to think about the following: The stadium, the crowd, the smells, the sounds, the players, the referee.

Write ideas for each section of your article on the corresponding football below, before attempting to complete your article.

Daily News

Extension task: Did things really change for women after World War 1?

