

Mixed Football Season 2009 - 10
Application for FA Dispensation

The FA has agreed to extend the experiments into mixed football for one more season before making a final proposal to The FA Council in 2010. Existing leagues already involved in the 2008-9 experiment and brand new leagues who wish to be involved must complete this form and send it to your County Football Association by Friday 24 July 2009 at the very latest. This will be for Season 2009-10 only and for girls aged under 12, under 13 and under 14.

This dispensation will only apply to those leagues where they can show evidence of girls who show a strong desire to continue mixed football. Leagues and their member clubs will not be encouraged to actively recruit girls for this as The FA Women's Committee still wish to see the majority of girls remain in the female player pathway.

Any league given dispensation must commit to work with The FA, County FA and any of their partners to monitor and evaluate these experiments, as well as support debates in Counties regarding the overall views of mixed football. Particular areas that will need to be discussed are the social, technical, psychological and physical aspects as well as demand, injuries, facilities and welfare matters.

It is hoped that a fully consulted proposal can then be reached based on facts and evidence and can be brought to The FA Council for their recommendations.
