FOREWORD - OUR PHILOSOPHY

EQUALITY, DIVERSITY, AND INCLUSION (EDI)

As the nation's number one sport, football has an incredible power to bring people together, eradicate social barriers and be a force for good across communities.

At The FA, we are clear that our commitments have to start with ourselves. This means creating a more diverse workforce from the inside out, and from top to bottom. For that diverse workforce to thrive it means working hard to nurture a culture where everyone feels safe, where everyone belongs and where everyone can be themselves. We have to respect and value our differences and start from a place of curiosity and kindness, ensuring that behaviours that stem from ignorance are confined to our past.

Through our England teams, we commit to having principled leaders who set high standards for their staff and players. We understand the power of role models and want our national teams to inspire current and future generations.

As we step outside The FA, we are committed to tackling discrimination in all its forms across the game, from grassroots to professional football. To do this we have to step in and lead the change, by using our power as an educator and regulator to open people's minds and to strongly sanction those who step out of line against the ethos of a game for all. We campaign in a way that demonstrates impartiality and we commit to doing everything in our power to tackle behaviour that we deem to be against our philosophy of football being for all.

As with our own organisation, we believe the game itself should be accessible and welcoming for everyone and that every single person has the right to play the game with confidence and without prejudice, regardless of their ability and background. Sport can change people's lives for the better. We welcome proactivity in tackling abuse, opening channels to report discrimination and encouraging people to come forward.

Football can help lead the pace of change in the world, but we know we can't do it on our own. Working with stakeholders, partners, leagues, clubs, players and leadership, we can collectively inspire the change we all want to see: a game that is inclusive and for all.

Football has the power to bring people together, remove barriers and be a force for good.

“Everyone deserves to be treated with respect – we are clear there is no place for discrimination in our game. Tackling this issue is a priority for me, for our leadership team and for our organisation as a whole. Together, we will continue our fight to create an environment where everyone feels represented and that they belong. We have taken positive steps already through our In Pursuit of Progress strategy. This new strategy offers us the opportunity to build on our foundations as we seek to make football a game that is truly for all.”

Mark Bullingham
Chief Executive Officer, The FA

OUR JOURNEY TO CHANGE

We've come a long way, but there's still a journey ahead. Here are the advances we've made over the past three years:

2018

- We launch our EDI strategy, In Pursuit of Progress, including representation targets and the adoption of the Rooney Rule

2019

- We report a 5% reduction in our gender pay gap*
- We launch our Asian Advisory Group in women's football and a refreshed version of our Asian Inclusion Plan

- As an organisation, we proudly march at Pride in London for the first time
- Our Elite Coach Placement Programme gains pace, giving coaches from historically underrepresented backgrounds the opportunity to join our England squads on international duty

- We launch partnerships with both Football Beyond Borders and Amnesty International UK to help increase diversity in both participation and leadership in the women's game

*Read the gender pay gap report here

2020

- Our Rainbow Laces campaign across the Barclays FA Women's Super League, FA Women's Championship and Emirates FA Cup is a success while our 50 County FAs empowered local clubs and leagues across the country to be vocal and visible on the importance of LGBTQ+ allyship

- We elevate our focus on EDI with increased Senior Management accountability
- The Football Leadership Diversity Code for the professional game is launched focusing on senior leadership, team operations and coaching roles

2021 SO FAR

- We unite English football to lead a boycott of social media channels to highlight the impact of online abuse

- We launch the Football Your Way programme to encourage disabled footballers back to the game post-pandemic
- We continue to publicly support players taking the knee before matches
- Our Black Lives Action Plan is launched internally

- Gareth Southgate's England men's senior team stand shoulder-to-shoulder in the face of discrimination and achieve their best tournament result since 1966 by reaching the UEFA EURO 2020 Final at Wembley Stadium

“We have so much to be proud of. I believe solid foundations have been built and I have seen the organisation visibly change in the past three years. Our work continues and we will keep pushing for even more progress to remove barriers and the unpleasant face of the game so that it can be played and enjoyed by generations to come.”

Paul Elliott
Chair of The FA Inclusion Advisory Board

OTHER EDI HIGHLIGHTS

We've launched a range of initiatives and programmes over the last three years, all of which contribute to making sure we have a game for all. Here are just a few activities we've undertaken:

MENTAL HEALTH

- Our Heads Together campaign in collaboration with the Royal Foundation changed the conversation around mental health and gained considerable traction across the whole game, culminating in the 2020 Heads Up FA Cup Final

- Key resources such as the Mental Health & Wellbeing Hub, mental health training, the Employee Assistance Programme, Headspace app and a dedicated Mental Health & Wellbeing Manager are made available for our employees during the pandemic

INCLUSION

- Unconscious bias training delivered to FA leaders and all employees asked to complete a mandatory unconscious bias module

- We launched our first Reverse Mentoring Programme to encourage dialogue across the organisation between senior leaders and employees from historically underrepresented groups
- Our first Employee Network focusing on ethnicity is launched, with a plan to explore further internal networks in the future

At the same time, we are also delivering Divisional strategies, including:

Inspiring Positive Change: Women's and Girls' Football

Strategy 20-24 'Survive. Revive. Thrive': Grassroots Football Strategy 20-24

AN INTEGRAL PART OF THE FA GROUP'S STRATEGY

One of our six game-changer objectives is to use our influence to make sure our game is A Game for All with EDI at the heart of everything that we do:

Win a major tournament

Ensure equal opportunities for every girl to play at their school and club

Serve 2,000,000+ players and workforce through a transformed digital platform

Use our influence to deliver a game free from discrimination

Deliver 7,000 quality pitches

Maximise the appeal and revenues of the FA Cups and Barclays FA WSL

A GAME FOR ALL

OUR THREE COMMITMENTS

LEAD THE CHANGE

By actively tackling discrimination on and off the pitch.

BE THE CHANGE

By building a diverse workforce from the inside out.

INSPIRE THE CHANGE

By promoting an inclusive and united game which is for all.

1

LEAD THE CHANGE

Actively tackling discrimination on and off the pitch through sanctions, reporting, more inclusive venues and by tackling online abuse.

INTRODUCTION

LEAD THE CHANGE

Discrimination continues to affect the game on the pitch, on the sidelines, on the terraces and online. Our role as the National Governing Body is to give leadership across the game to tackle the big challenges and ensure the rules of the game can sanction and educate those who cause harm to others.

We will continue to deliver updated sanctions and charges while delivering education, information and support to players at all levels. We are working to make our venues safer spaces; to ensure our matchday experiences are inclusive and memorable events can be enjoyed by everyone. We will also continue to maintain pressure on social media companies and the government to protect users from discriminatory online abuse.

We will LEAD the change across a number of key focus areas and together we will tackle abuse and strive to drive it from our game.

“We want our England squads to be proud of their diversity and heritage. By coming together and embracing our differences, we can be stronger in football and society.”

Gareth Southgate
England Men's Senior Manager

COMMITMENT ONE

LEAD THE CHANGE

In leading the change, we will focus on the following key areas:

Effective sanctions and EDI education

Implement discrimination sanctions and charges in line with new FA policies and guidelines

Continually seek feedback and review our policies and guidelines to ensure they remain current

Deliver mandatory educational programmes if individuals are found guilty of a discriminatory offence

Deliver education programmes focused on EDI to our England players and support staff to ensure they feel confident and supported in dealing with discrimination of any form

Focus on improving reporting across the National League System, women's pyramid and the grassroots game

Tackle online abuse

Unite English football and effectively strive to tackle online abuse by using campaigns, protective platform tools, public policy engagement and communication

Leverage technology and engage key partners to identify and remove abuse from our own and others' social media channels

Maintain pressure on social media companies and the government to protect users

COMMITMENT ONE

LEAD THE CHANGE

Create safer venues

Use innovative tools and technology to deter anti-social behaviour at Wembley Stadium and St. George's Park

Make it clear how spectators and visitors can report discriminatory abuse at our venues

Identify and take appropriate action against anyone found guilty of abuse at Wembley Stadium or St. George's Park

---

Develop a training programme to assist employees and stewards at women's clubs to deal with and report abuse

---

Ensure reporting systems across our channels are robust and information received is acted upon swiftly

Address discrimination in football

Evolve current discrimination reporting channels and the execution of disciplinary processes in grassroots football

Commission research that addresses the ways in which our reporting mechanisms are serving their purpose

LEAD THE CHANGE - KEY FOCUS

TACKLE ONLINE ABUSE

While discriminatory abuse and hate speech is common across social media, there is an acute focus in football.

Following recent abuse directed at players and match officials, we brought together the Premier League, English Football League (EFL), Kick It Out and the Professional Footballers' Association (PFA) to discuss a unified, action orientated approach towards tackling the problem. This is complementary to the Football Online Hate Working Group, which includes football stakeholders alongside the Crown Prosecution Service, Twitter, Facebook and the UK Football Policing Unit.

Having analysed the problem, we have explicitly asked the main social media companies to carry out four actions. These requests are that:

1. Messages and posts should be filtered and blocked before being sent or posted if they contain racist or discriminatory material
2. They should operate robust, transparent, and swift measures to take down abusive material if it does get into circulation
3. All users should be subject to an improved verification process that (only if required by law enforcement) allows for accurate identification of the person behind the account. Steps should also be taken to stop a user that has sent abuse previously from re-registering an account
4. Platforms should actively and expeditiously assist the investigating authorities in identifying the originators of illegal discriminatory material

To date, these requests have not been met, but we will continue to press for change.

We have also been working with law enforcement and Government to explore different ways to address this issue. Areas we have been exploring include:

1. Discussing the need for more resources to plug the gaps in the current enforcement system
2. Reviewing and discussing current policies about witnesses, evidence thresholds and sentencing guidelines
3. Engaging and providing evidence to further improve the Online Safety Bill draft, making sure that it addresses the issue and is enacted quickly
4. Ensuring that social media companies will be held to account with new robust regulation, and encouraging them to tackle the current abuse ahead of regulation

We will do everything in our power to lead change.

LEAD THE CHANGE - MEASURES OF SUCCESS

TACKLING DISCRIMINATION

By 2024 we want to:

See over 90% of spectator and participant discrimination cases being closed within 90 days.*

Regularly educate participants and staff to confidently deal with incidents of discrimination on and off the pitch.

Work with, challenge and encourage relevant stakeholders to tackle online discriminatory abuse

“Tackling online discriminatory abuse is a key priority for football. People who play, watch or work in the game should not be subjected to this awful abuse. We must collectively drive this out of the game.”

Sanjay Bhandari
Chair, Kick It Out

* In season 2020-21, 81% of grassroots football discrimination cases were solved within 90 days

2 BE THE CHANGE

Building a diverse workforce from the inside out through education, development and inclusive leadership.

INTRODUCTION

BE THE CHANGE

While we have made great strides in recent times, we will continue to focus on diversity across the game, both inside and outside of our organisation. Our aim is to be more representative of modern society.

As an employer, we want everyone to feel welcome and represented in our places of work. Through our 2018-2021 workforce targets, we have laid a foundation on which we can develop further; by 2024, we will have built a strong and diverse workforce with a diverse leadership team, who work together to create a safe, enjoyable, and inclusive environment for all.

The codes designed to drive diversity and inclusion across the game will remain key priorities, including the Football Leadership Diversity Code and our County FA Code of Governance, which aims to improve grassroots football across the country. Women's and girls' football continues to grow, and we will focus on developing diverse leaders and building the domestic female club pathways.

We want to BE the change – we will do everything we can to make both our own organisation, and the wider game representative of the rich diversity of our country.

COMMITMENT TWO

BE THE CHANGE

To be the change, we will focus on the following key areas:

Develop our workforce

Improve the diversity of our board, councils and committees to ensure they better reflect the communities we serve

Through development and recruitment, create opportunities for more diverse leaders and role models across our business

Deliver and execute our new organisational disability plan

Refresh our brand as an employer to appeal to the widest possible talent pool

Work with specialist diversity recruitment partners to ensure a broader range of candidates consider us as their future employer

Embed inclusion education into our induction training

Use digital tools to improve the quality of diversity data in football

Achieve the UK Sports Council's Advanced Level of the Equality Standard for Sport

Increase diversity in football's future leadership

Educate and improve understanding of different lived experiences, including through the delivery of mentoring programmes for our employees

Develop our school leaver apprenticeship programme and extend our early-careers work

Grow our youth development and leadership programmes

“I am honoured to play an important role in creating a more diverse board at The FA as we are committed to better represent the communities we serve.”

Kate Tinsley
FA Board Member

COMMITMENT TWO

Support diversity across grassroots football

Collaborate with County FAs to ensure the delivery of EDI best practice

Support delivery of the rollout of the County FA Code of Governance

Deliver targeted grassroots coach development programmes

Champion diversity across the football industry

Encourage wider adoption of the Football Leadership Diversity Code across the professional and wider game

Explore launching a football industry mentoring programme to develop talent across the game

Continue to improve and deliver diversity and inclusion education

Enhance the way we communicate with the world around us

Communicate significant FA workforce initiatives and achievements such as pathways into coaching and refereeing

Improve accessibility of digital communications, including child-appropriate design formats

Grow the women's and girls' game

Develop talented and diverse leaders for the women's game

Continue to improve diversity and inclusion training

Develop strong and accessible domestic club pathways

“Our women's and girls' strategy plays an important role in supporting this anti-discrimination strategy. All aspects of our work across The FA come together to ensure equality and diversity is central to our mission.”

Baroness Sue Campbell DBE
Director of Women's Football

BE THE CHANGE - KEY FOCUS

DIVERSITY TARGETS

Diverse representation in our workforce continues to be a priority. Whilst we have made considerable progress against our targets, some teams are less well represented across certain target groups and we will work even harder to address these issues with initiatives such as reverse mentoring, positive action programmes and high potential development groups.

Whilst setting targets and holding ourselves to account has made a big contribution to improving the diversity of who we are today, it should also be said that this will always be underpinned by the principle of meritocracy and a culture of shared values.

In addition to our three-year targets we have set aspirational goals for 2028. Two new targets in this strategy are:

Disability: Addressing the underrepresentation of disabled people in our organisation will be a priority for us in the coming years. The launch of a new comprehensive Disability plan will support us in achieving a more diverse and representative workforce.

Ethnicity in women's national team coaching:

As we have grown the women's game, we've made great strides in gender representation by nearly doubling the percentage of females in our women's game coaching population over three years. However, representation of people from Black, Asian, Mixed or Other ethnic backgrounds remains low. Over the course of the plan, we will develop initiatives to address this underrepresentation in the women's coaching workforce.

MENTAL HEALTH ON AND OFF THE PITCH

In recent years, our mental health agenda has grown significantly which has been a big contributor to developing a more inclusive culture on and off the pitch. There is more work to be done to develop this agenda further from 2021. Some recent highlights include:

- The delivery of mental health training and education for FA Senior Management, extended leadership teams, national coaches and performance staff to understand this important topic, spotting signs of struggle, seeking and giving support
- Mental Health For All foundation training is now in place for all FA employees to better the understanding around mental health. This work will continue over the coming years
- Launch of a dedicated portal available to all FA employees containing information, resources, blogs, videos, guides and training to support the wellbeing of our employees
- Individual mental health screening at the start of each international camp for all England players from U17 age groups to the Senior teams with access to specialist mental health support
- February 2021 saw the launch of a mental health champions initiative, providing advice and support to grassroots referees and match officials across the country

Further to our Heads Up Campaign which kickstarted in 2019 and culminated in the Heads Up FA Cup Final, The Mentally Healthy Football Declaration was launched committing to make mental health a key priority at all levels of the game across the UK with support from The Professional Footballer's Association (PFA), Premier League, English Football League (EFL), League Managers Association (LMA), Barclays FA Women's Super League (WSL), County FAs, Scottish FA, Welsh FA and Irish FA.

DIVERSITY ACROSS THE WHOLE GAME

To help drive a change in representation across football's leadership, team operations and coaching, we launched the Football Leadership Diversity Code in 2020. We are encouraging game-wide sign-up to this code.

The Football Leadership Diversity Code aims to accelerate the pace of change across a number of roles in clubs and organisations in English football. Every club – whether professional, semi-professional or grassroots – will have the opportunity to change the composition of their leadership, team operations and coaching staff to reflect modern England's diversity.

Over 40 clubs across the Premier League, English Football League (EFL), Barclays FA Women's Super League (WSL) and FA Women's Championship were founding signatories when the code for the professional game was launched.

We are confident that the code will make a positive difference to football both on the bench and off the pitch.

BE THE CHANGE - MEASURES OF SUCCESS

REPRESENTATION

By 2024 we want to:

Achieve female representation of at least 40% across The FA workforce, with 42% in leadership positions.

Achieve Black, Asian, Mixed or Other ethnic background representation of at least 17% across all employees, 13% in leadership, 10% across our England women's coaching division and 25% across our England men's coaching division.

Achieve disability representation of at least 10% across all employees in our organisation.

“The women’s game has grown rapidly in recent years and our targets for diversity in women’s coaching are a clear testament to our commitment to employing a diverse coaching team across our England teams.”

Kay Cossington
Head of Women’s Technical Development

INSPIRE THE CHANGE

Promoting an inclusive game for everyone through positive action programmes, education, campaigns and stakeholder alignment.

INTRODUCTION

INSPIRE THE CHANGE

As the governing body of the game, we are perfectly placed to promote football as being inclusive and for all. We want everyone to feel like they can be part of football – regardless of background or social status.

We will deliver hard-hitting, positive and authentic campaigns alongside education and programmes across all aspects of the game, respecting differences and celebrating the things that make us unique.

Our diversity programmes will continue to grow and deliver change. Our positive action programmes will ensure underrepresented groups have access to opportunities to enjoy the game. Our education programmes will be inclusive and our talent pipelines across coaching and refereeing will be diverse.

More widely, our influence allows us to develop dialogue with football stakeholders across the country and internationally.

We will INSPIRE change, lead from the front and use our power to positively influence every aspect of our game.

COMMITMENT THREE

Execute impactful campaigns and raise awareness

Deliver campaigns and content to support our EDI calendar

Work with the Premier League, English Football League (EFL) and other stakeholders to deliver anti-discrimination campaigns across the women's and men's games

Develop a motivated, diverse range of local leaders organising grassroots football

Grow our RESPECT campaign to support our ambitions for grassroots football

Share best practice and advise the Professional Football Negotiating and Consultative Committee and Professional Game Board to embed EDI across the professional game

---

Support and advise on the EDI agenda in the National League System and the women's pyramid working with leagues and clubs

---

Deliver our core diversity programmes

Launch County FA-led women's and girls' programmes to motivate diverse participants

Deliver initiatives across gender, ethnicity, disability, faith and LGBTQ+ communities. Some examples include:

- Working with cross-football LGBTQ+ fan groups to raise awareness, break down barriers and support inclusivity of participants and spectators
  - Our Rainbow Laces campaign and engagement with Pride in London
  - Our trans policy and supporting guidance
  - A pilot player care programme in relation to LGBTQ+ identities in partnership with Stonewall
  - Interventions marking major events and dates across the country's largest faith communities
  - Continued focus on our Asian Inclusion strategy (Bringing Opportunities to Communities Phase 2)
  - Our disability programmes such as the Football Your Way campaign

Introduce a digital application process for people transitioning or requesting other dispensation (including disability and LGBTQ+)

“We have made huge progress in our LGBTQ+ work across The FA. Marching at Pride was a powerful reminder for me of how football can bring everyone together, as people from all races, faiths and sexual orientations came together to celebrate the progress we’ve made in becoming a more tolerant and welcoming society. Visible allyship will enable more and more people to live happier, more fulfilled lives.”

Craig Donald
FA Chief Information Officer

COMMITMENT THREE

Engage and influence stakeholders

Maintain positive dialogue and strive to align with all our stakeholders on cross-football initiatives to enhance EDI across the landscape

Identify opportunities to share EDI best practice and role models with international audiences

Support UEFA's and FIFA's EDI campaigns and seek diverse representation in any relevant committee nominations

Use our positions of influence on the UEFA ExCo and with FIFA to increase diversity and inclusion across the global game

Build EDI as a focus area into tournament bids and delivery

Provide career opportunities

Retain the best talent with 'player-to-coach' programmes

Develop a 'dual-career programme' for girls and women

Address workforce imbalances via positive action programmes

Continue to innovate to drive positive step changes in our representation, culture and workforce

Target opportunities for increased inclusion for underrepresented groups within our elite environment

Open up performance pathways via UEFA qualifications or Advanced Youth Award (AYA) bursaries and the Integrated Coaching Strategy

Deliver world class education

Ensure a focus on EDI is built into all England Football Learning education programmes

INSPIRE THE CHANGE - KEY FOCUS

POSTIVE ACTION PROGRAMMES

With the aim of building a bigger and more diverse coaching talent pipeline, we will continue to target opportunities for increased inclusion of underrepresented groups within our elite football environment.

The 2020/21 season saw the third successful year of the Elite Coach Placement Programme, despite reductions across all the England teams due to the Covid-19 pandemic.

The programme – jointly run by The FA and the Professional Footballers’ Association (PFA) – is designed to create opportunities for coaches from historically underrepresented groups to work within England national team setups as active or observational coaches.

Over the last three seasons, many coaches have experienced the elite England environment from the senior teams to development squads across all age groups.

Having gained valuable experience, coaches are better equipped for roles within the wider football industry. Recent coaches include Chris Powell who supported the England men’s senior squad during UEFA EURO 2020 (resulting in the team’s most successful tournament finish since 1966).

We continue to see a growing cohort of coaches from the women’s game entering the programme, including Alena Moulton and Coreen Brown. Others who have experienced the programme include Sol Campbell, Nicole Farley, Kieron Dyer, Terry Connor and Paul Nevin.

We look forward to hosting more coach cohorts and allowing them the chance to experience a career-enhancing opportunity within the elite England environment.

“It is an honour for any coach to work across the England Player Pathway. The opportunity to work with and further develop the best young players in England is a privilege. We all want success for our national teams and I have the opportunity to contribute towards that.”

Marcus Bignot

Elite Coach Placement Programme delegate

LEAD THE CHANGE - MEASURES OF SUCCESS

IMPROVING ACCESS

By 2024 we want to:

Deliver campaigns, programmes and education to help change society's conscience by raising awareness of the impact of discrimination across the whole game.

Grow our grassroots game to be more representative of modern society including supporting and enhancing the ways in which County FAs address equality, diversity and inclusion.

Grow the pipelines of a high-performing coach and referee workforce in both grassroots and elite football, representative of females, Black, Asian, Mixed or Other ethnic groups and disabled people.

Provide equal access to football for females in schools and continue to grow the women's game.

“The connection between The FA and the County FA network continues to grow strongly and together our industry is changing to embrace people of all backgrounds into the wonderful game. Grassroots football collectively will be a better place for everybody to enjoy football.”

Steve Smithies
Chief Executive Officer, Cheshire County FA

SUMMARY

THE FINAL WHISTLE

To ensure our game is inclusive, we all have a responsibility to step up and blow the whistle on discrimination. Here's how:

The grassroots game, disability game, women's pyramid and The National League

If you've been the victim of or witnessed an incident of discrimination:

Report it via The FA at Football.ForAll@TheFA.com

To Kick It Out through their online reporting form or via their reporting app available on both iOS and Android.

Alternatively, email Kick It Out at report@kickitout.org

For grassroots football - complete the online form you'll find here, which also goes to your County FA. You can also contact your County FA directly. A full list of County FAs and contact details can be found here

---

Please note: If the incident occurs outside 'organised' football (i.e. in competitions not affiliated to the County FA), the County FA can still advise on what your next steps should be).

The professional game

If you're a spectator at a professional match:

The guidance below applies to domestic matches not at Wembley Stadium

If you witness racist or other discriminatory behaviour at a match or around a stadium, please report it to the nearest steward or police officer.

---

Many professional clubs also offer fans at their stadium a confidential text service to contact during the match – similar to the one operated by Wembley Stadium.

---

If outside the stadium or on social media – or on the way to/from a match – report it to Kick It Out through their online reporting form or via their reporting app available on both iOS and Android. Alternatively, email Kick It Out at report@kickitout.org

---

You should also report it to the police, either:

- In person
  - To your local police by calling 101
  - By completing the online reporting form you'll find here
  - In an emergency, always call 999

You can also report to The FA at integrity@TheFA.com

SUMMARY

THE FINAL WHISTLE

If you are a professional player

The guidance below applies to a player in the Premier League, EFL, National League System (steps 1 to 4), the Barclays FA Women's Super League or FA Women's Championship.

If you or another player is subject to discriminatory abuse at a game by either the crowd or another player, report it to a match official as soon as possible. If for any reason you cannot report it to a match official at the time or after the game, you can email integrity@TheFA.com

Further details on reporting discrimination – and the process that's followed – are also provided on pages 26-29 of The FA's 'Essential Information for Players' guidance you will have been given at the start of the season and which you can also download below.

If you are a member or associated member of the Professional Footballers' Association (PFA), you can report discrimination incidents via equalities@thepfa.com or for online abuse at enough@thepfa.com. The PFA has support systems in place. You can read more about the PFA's anti-discrimination work here.

---

If you are a club employee at a professional game

For example, a manager, coach, physio or kit supervisor etc.

If the discriminatory abuse has come from another participant in the match (player or staff member of the other team), you should report it to a match official as soon as possible – in practice this would ordinarily be the fourth official. At games where no fourth official is present, you should report it as soon as possible to another of the match officials.

If the discriminatory abuse has come from a spectator and there is no fourth official, you should bring it to the attention of either: one of the other match officials, the security officer or senior steward or the person responsible for the security of the game

Additional reporting channels for England matches

In addition to contacting The FA or Kick It Out through the channels listed on page 31, if the incident is at a home or away England match (men's and women's including Disability football) and you are a signed up to My England Football or a member of the England Supporters Travel Club, you can email us at englandsupportersclub@TheFA.com

Before every England game – home and away – we email all England Supporters Travel Club members outlining how they can report any type of bad or harmful behaviour they witness before, during or after a match. The email also goes to other ticket holders for England home matches.

All the above advice applies to England men's and women's matches, wherever they are played, as well as to development team matches, such as under-21 internationals.

SUMMARY

THE FINAL WHISTLE

Reporting discrimination at St. George's Park

If you're playing/training at St. George's Park and you want to report a discriminatory incident, follow the processes for professional football or grassroots football outlined above.

However, if you're a member of the public and see/hear/are the victim of discrimination at St. George's Park, you should contact the on-site Incident Support Team, either:

- In person: via the National Football Centre reception
- By mobile: 07500 226878
- By email: SGPsecurity@TheFA.com

All large events at St. George's Park are stewarded, so you can also report direct to a steward, who will in turn contact the on-site Incident Support Team.

Reporting discrimination on social media

Whether it's in connection with professional or grassroots football, if you see a post on social media you believe is discriminatory, there are three ways to report it:

To the site or platform where it was posted – see more information below.

To Kick It Out through their online reporting form or via their reporting app available on both iOS and Android.

Alternatively, email Kick It Out at report@kickitout.org

To your local police force, either:

- In person
- To your local police by calling 101
- By completing the online reporting form you'll find here
- In an emergency, always call 999

Reporting discrimination direct to social media companies:

Led by The FA, football believes more should be done by social media companies to prevent online abuse, and we are currently lobbying the companies – as well as the UK Government – to bring about meaningful, positive change. You can read more about this work here.

However, in the meantime we all have a part to play in highlighting posts that we believe breach the various social media channels' respective codes of conduct.

There are reporting mechanisms for discrimination you may witness or are a victim of at some social media sites: YouTube | TikTok | Snapchat
